

Chat record
GS: It is at the 'final tweaks' stage
GS: Tomas - Edible Trees has been translated into Ukrainian as has Aranya's 'Permaculture Design.
PL: this is the inspiration for you climate battery GH?
PL: does the fig wasp "appear" when you have the mediterranean biotope or are you still reliant on parthenocarpic varieties, I wonder?
JH: would be good to get his most successful plants. Pomegranate sp for example. Also love the inbuilt platform and shower. Feel you should add this Martin!
JH: Get off the hamster wheel! You need to "cat"ch and carry yourself for a nap sometimes!!
MC: Thank you!
MC: Jerome was going to be having a live Q & A after but unfortunately is ill. His book "The Forest Garden Greenhouse" (Chelsea Green) is recommended.
MC: Yes it is.
MC: When is that book due out Christine?
MC: Yes Jo I sometimes think that too but I'mm not sure I would have any time to use it!
MC: Yes the next link from programme is not working (last minute change)
KP: To Martin C and co- workers: I do not us the word fantastic very often....but I have to say...this conference has fullfilled all I wanted to know about agroforestry...and the way everything has run.....really fantastic. I am so glad I did not give in when RA: Christine - that sounds great!
RA: Thanks Jerome - that was inspiring!
RA: Ricardo seems to be in Jerome's presentation not his own!
RA: I'm sure we all wish Jerome a good and speedy recovery.
RA: Martin - I agree with Jo - I missed Monday because the bank holiday confused me, and I went to Nant y Bedd garden in Montmouthshire (open for the National Garden Scheme that day, but ordinarily open Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays from July to September).
TR: Chris and George, so great to hear that there will be a new PFAF book!
ES: Please make your way to the programme tab to view the next session,
ES: Please go back to the programme tab to view Ricardos presentation
DR: The past week has been a reminder how little I know, how much more there is to discover & that there is a brilliant community of people to share the journey of discovery.
CM: I agree! Amazing event! Sorry not to have engaged much as working in parallel on final details of new PFAF book 'Plants for your Food Forest' featuring 500 plants - out soon!